

My dad truly is the BEST massage therapist. I know this from personal experience. He has pulled pain from me just a couple of days ago. It was incredible! All it took was one call. I asked him to pull the pain away and after awhile I felt nothing at all and felt fine, and could go back to school. I have a great dad because whenever I am hurt or in pain I can count on him to pull it from me. I also can pull pain and use energy work. When I was little my mother had a killing headache, my dad showed me how to position my fingers and where to place them. A few minutes later the headache was gone. My dad has pulled pain from me many times and has given me AMAZING massages. I am very grateful for a great massage therapist as a dad.
